

Report on “Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel Jayanti”

Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel was a strong leader, an ambitious personality. The word “Sardar” itself means a chief, a leader. Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel was one of the leading figures in the battle for the independence of India. He was the first Home Minister and first Deputy Prime Minister of India. People used to call him as the Ironman (Lohpurush) of India. Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel was born on 31st October 1875, in Nadiad village in Gujarat.

The one who won over British leaders in the Satyagrah of Kheda and Bardoli, Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel was the Bismarck of Modern India, who led the welfare of farmers. He is renowned as the architect of independent India, as he united all diverse 562 princely states to build one great Republic of India. Shri Narendra Modi decided to pay honorable tribute which will be cherished for centuries by the whole world and it will become a matter of pride for every Indian for this great man. Built in less than five years, it is the world’s tallest, grandest and giant statue. It is a tribute to the man who united India, Sardar Patel.
