“Teacher’s Conference – 5th October 2024”

Date: 05th October 2024

Time: 10:30 a.m.

Venue: ASM’s Institute of Professional Studies Auditorium

Introduction:

The Teachers Conference, held on 5th October 2024, was an insightful event aimed at empowering faculty members with knowledge about the Company Secretary (CS) profession. Recognizing the vital role that teachers play in shaping students’ careers, this conference was designed to bridge the gap between academia and industry by providing a thorough understanding of the CS career path, professional responsibilities, and future opportunities.

With the growing demand for corporate governance professionals, the conference focused on equipping educators with the necessary information to guide students in making informed career decisions. The event brought together experts from the CS field, industry professionals, and academic mentors to share their insights and experiences.

The ASM CSIT Teachers Conference on 5th October 2024 was an informative and impactful event that successfully educated faculty members about the CS profession. With the knowledge gained, educators are now better positioned to guide students toward a career in Company Secretaryship, ensuring they make well-informed decisions about their future. The event also strengthened industry-academic collaboration, paving the way for more career-oriented initiatives in the future.

Objective:

- To educate teachers about the career opportunities available for students in the field of Company Secretaryship.
- To provide detailed insights into the CS profession, including its roles, responsibilities, and job prospects.
- To equip faculty members with practical knowledge so they can mentor and guide students effectively.

- To create a platform for discussion between academic professionals and industry experts on the relevance of the CS profession in today's corporate landscape.
- To motivate educators to incorporate career-oriented guidance into their academic interactions with students.

Speakers:

1. CS Ashish Mohan, Secretary The ICSI.
2. CS B Narsimhan, President The ICSI.

Report:

The event commenced with an opening speech by Dr. Vikas Barbate sir, who highlighted the importance of career-oriented mentoring in higher education. The significance of the Company Secretary profession in corporate governance was introduced, setting the stage for an engaging and informative session.

The keynote speakers shared detailed insights into:

- The Structure of the CS Course: A breakdown of Foundation, Executive, and Professional levels, along with the subjects and skills required at each stage.
- Legal and Corporate Responsibilities: An overview of regulatory compliance, corporate law, and governance practices that a CS professional handles.
- Career Paths: Discussion on various industries where CS professionals are required, including corporate firms, financial institutions, regulatory bodies, and consultancy firms.
- Challenges and Opportunities: Insights into the evolving role of CS professionals in India and abroad, and how students can leverage their skills to excel in the field.

Panel Discussion and Interactive Q&A:

A panel discussion was held where faculty members interacted with CS professionals and industry experts, asking critical questions about:

- How to guide students in choosing the CS profession.
- The difference between CS, CA (Chartered Accountant), and CMA (Cost Management Accountant) and how students can decide which path suits them best.
- The job market for CS professionals and the future of the profession in India.
- The impact of technology and automation on corporate compliance and governance.

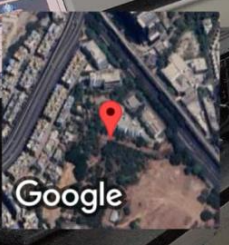

The session was highly interactive, with faculty members engaging in productive discussions, sharing their concerns and queries about mentoring students in this field. The experts addressed these concerns with practical solutions and advice.
